Overview

Nebraska added 135,028 people to their population over the last decade, an increase of 7.39%. Nebraska saw a majority of its population growth in the urban areas in and around Omaha and Lincoln in the eastern portion of the state. With declines in more rural districts, Nebraska aligns with the general national trend of movement from rural to urban/suburban areas.

The White population declined by 1.01% over the decade in accordance with its national patterns of decline. The White population declined in most districts, but grew at a similar rate to other communities in urban areas along the eastern half of the state (District 2). The overall share of the population is now 75.69% compared to 82.12% in the 2010 Census.

The Latino population grew by 40.20% over the decade across all areas of the state, particularly in the southeast near Lincoln. The overall share of the population is now 11.97% compared to 9.17% in the 2010 Census.

Over the decade, the 16.61% growth of the African American population was relatively more concentrated in the northeast corner of the state. Declines were seen around Omaha. The overall share of the population increased to 4.81% from 4.43% in the 2010 Census.

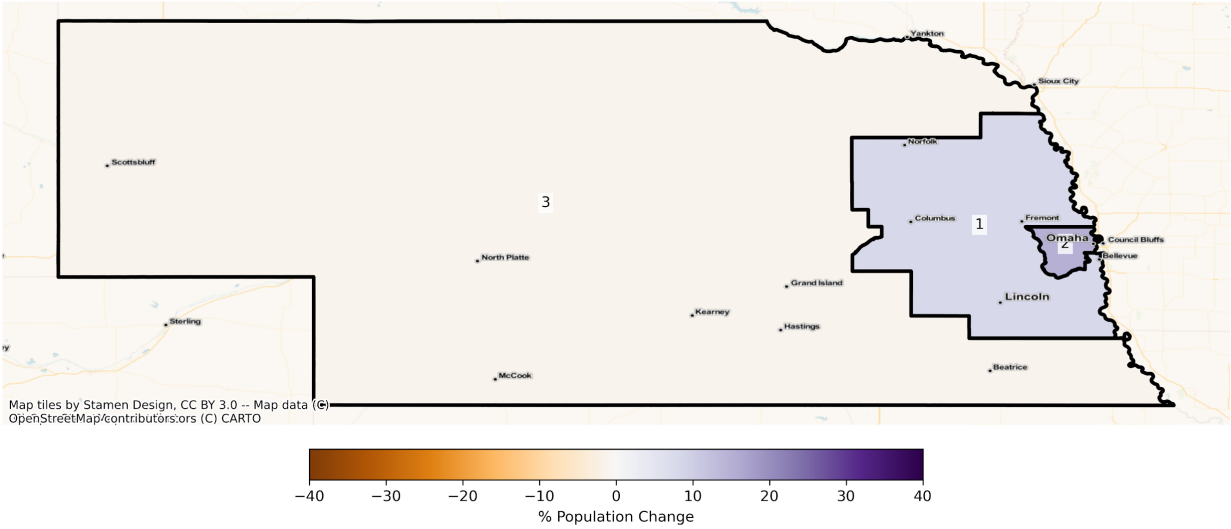

The Asian population increased by 64.04% over the decade across the state, with increases concentrated in the east and pockets of decline across the center and west. The overall share of the population is now 2.67% compared to 1.75% in the 2010 Census.

Congressional

The charts below display the percent change in population from 2010 to 2020 for the listed group. Please note that the color bars are fixed to be from -40% to 40% and these maps are displayed in brown to purple. If the percent change in population was outside of this range, the color scheme changes to red to green to indicate a change.
