Overview

Overall, Wyoming added 13,225 people to their population, experiencing an increase of 2.35% between 2010 and 2020. Wyoming saw a majority of its population growth occur in the northwest (e.g., Senate District 16) and southeast corners (House District 1). With declines along the more rural, central-southern parts of the state and increases centered around cities such as Cheyenne and Casper, Wyoming aligns with the general national trend of movement from rural to urban/suburban areas.

The White population declined by 2.94% over the decade in accordance with its national patterns of decline. The White population declined in most districts, but grew at a similar rate to other communities in urban areas. The overall share of the population for Whites is now 81.42% compared to 85.85% in the 2010 Census.

The Latino population grew by 17.55% over the decade across most areas of the state, though increases were concentrated slightly more to the outer areas of the state (i.e. Senate Districts 1 and 16). The overall share of the population of Latinos is now 10.24% compared to 8.91% in the 2010 Census.

The American Indian and Alaska Native population declined by 0.03% over the decade across the state. Declines were found mostly in the western half of the state, with increases in the east, primarily around Laramie. The overall share of the population is now 2.04% compared to 2.09% in 2010.

Congressional

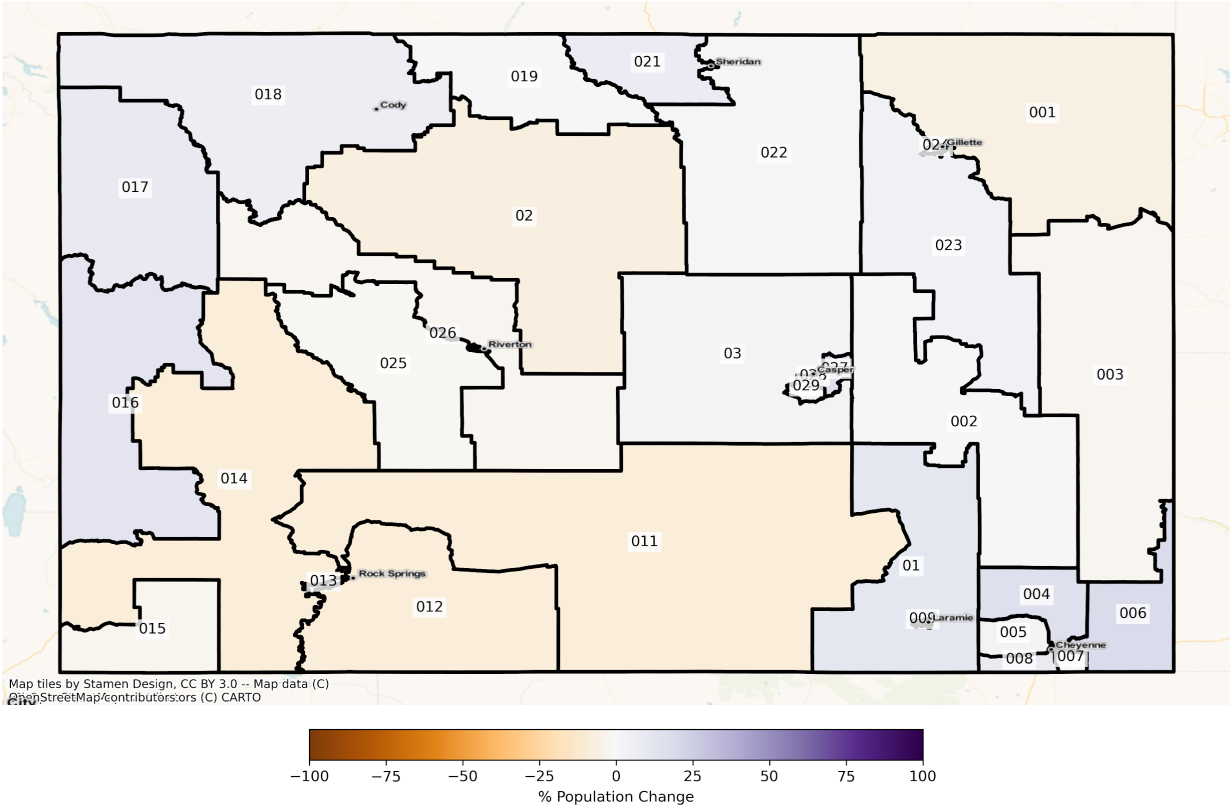

Wyoming has one at-large congressional district.

State Senate

The charts below display the percent change in population from 2010 to 2020 for the listed group. Please note that the color bars are fixed to be from -100% to 100% and these maps are displayed in brown to purple. If the percent change in population was outside of this range, the color scheme changes to red to green to indicate a change.
